Floor Plans

The screenshot displays a real estate listing for a property renovation project. The main heading is "家賃家賃付賃貸 リノベーション後" (Rental property with rent after renovation). Below the heading, there is a small photograph of the building's exterior and a detailed floor plan showing the layout of the interior spaces. To the right of the floor plan, there is a vertical table with various specifications and details, including room names and measurements. The overall layout is typical of a Japanese real estate portal.
